TOBACCO MARKET

Report of L. B. Vaughan & Company for the Week.

Concerning the condition of the tobacco market during the past week, Messrs. L. B. Vaughan & Company, of Messrs. I. E. Yungman & Company.

Crenshaw warchouse, say as follows:

"We have had another week of better prices, which we think apply to all grades.
Whether this is due to lighter receipts and sales, backward farm work owing to weather conditions or to the last merger or not, the fact remain the same.
We are asked by rrany of our mutual patrons and friends (mutual compilment) to say through The Times-Dispatch what kind of tohacco best suited this trade. We beg again to repeat that we are reliably informed that sun-cured tobacco will be further extended and developed than ever before, and that this excellent tobacco is selling as high or higher than the burley in the West or bright or fine cured here and in the Carolinas, Orincog and Pryor (the latter for wrappers) best variety to be planted, and that sarlier to make lighter colored milder leaf. Early planting means early cutting; ninety or one hundred days bring the Crenshaw warchouse, say as follows:

sun ten days or more to catch the sun and dews. Transferred to open barns and cured like burley in the Wost, Soil is big faction in sun cured success, light soil preferred, like Ne Weent, Charles City, King William, King and Queen, Essex, Caroline, Spotsylvania, Louisa, Fluvanna, Goochiand, Hanover, Henrico counties in our section. We confidently believe sun cured can be well raised in other of southern counties of our State, say Mecklenburg, Pittsylvania, Hallfax, Henry and other counties.

We lay stress against fire smell or smoke. During process of curing in the barn and to prevent mold during warm, wet spells of weather, we advise affitight wood stoves or flue to create only enough heat to cause free oirculation of air, etc. We believe sun cured tobacco best made, and in order to supply needed demands, which has come for this nine smoke or chow for home and foreign require larger crop of sun oured tobacco for its success and competition. We confidently believe when us Yankees have gotten and are still getting possession of the trade of the earth, the problem of supply will be difficult. Sales for April, 609,705 pounds, an against 6,748,824 pounds; increase, 2,875,055 pounds.
